Libertinus Mono (LibertinusMono-Regular.otf 7.040)

This Monospace Serif font intends to cover most European languages written in a Latin alphabet. For Serbo-Croat it lacks the theoretically-encountered digraphs. But for Hungarian it mismaps u-with-double-acute to plain u, and for Latvian it similarly maps E-with-macron to plain E, both are just like the unmaintained Linux Libertine Mono from which it was forked.

For variations of the Latin alphabets I attempt to show the whole alphabet, followed by Article 1 of the UDHR (it is traditional!). For other scripts and languages I merely display the digits (if not common 0..9) and Article 1.

This document was prepared using X_ELATEX and fontspec. Depending on the font, missing glyphs will be replaced either by nothing at all (occasional fonts do that), a blank space, an empty box, or some other symbol indicating a missing glyph.

This monospaced text might also include added spacing to justify the lines.

It has only a normal face with a regular weight.

2 Quotation-marks, etc.

In real-world usage, particularly when looking at news sites, the presence or absence of the correct quote characters will make a difference. As a coder, I use '...' or "..." but in good text there are variations and this font supports:

left and right single quotes '...'
single turned comma,

right single quote '...'
double low 9,
left double quotes „..."
guillemets «...»
angle quotes <...>

In Spanish languages, the inverted exclamation-mark ¡ and inverted question-mark ¿ are necessary.
